John Donne

'Tis true 'tis day, What though it be? And will you therefore rise from me? What, will you rise, What, will you be 'tis light? Did we lie down because 'tis night? Love that in spight of dark nesse brought us there together In spight of light should keep us still together In spight of light should keep us still together.